

StarLeaf Overview

Will MacDonald

April 2016

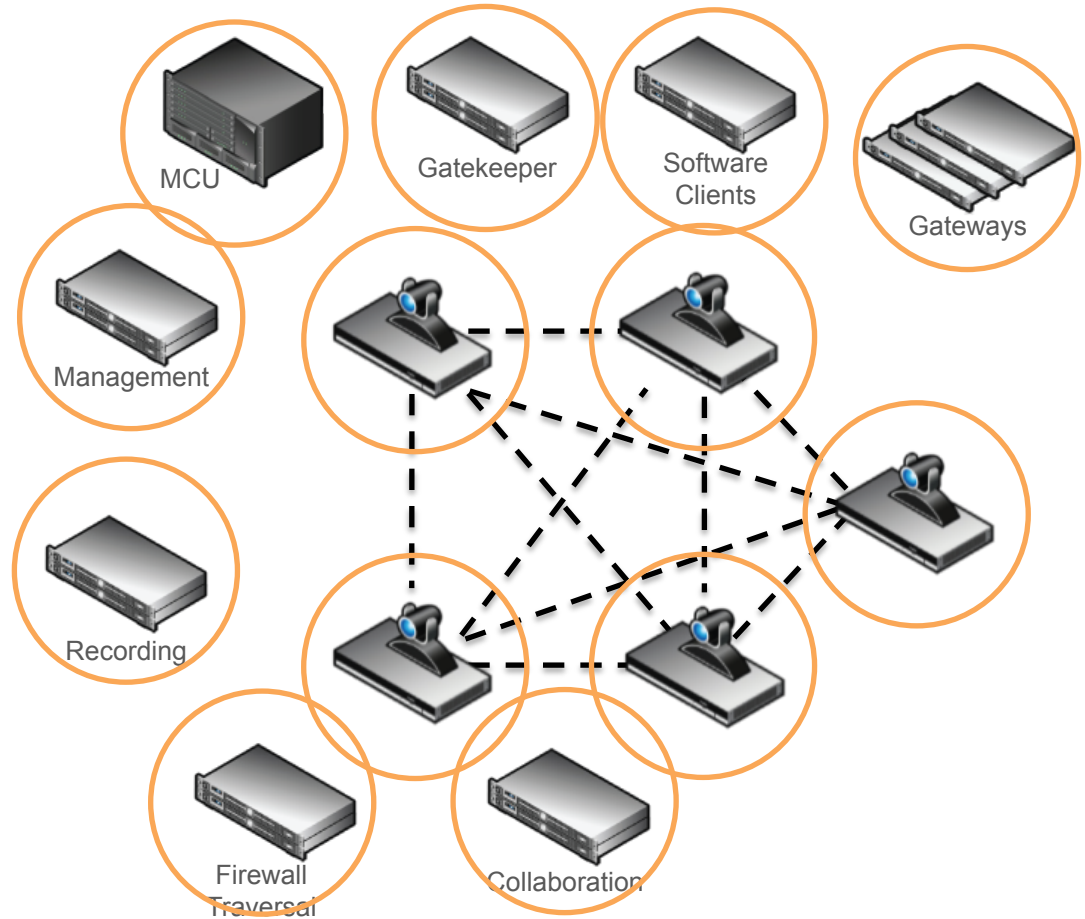

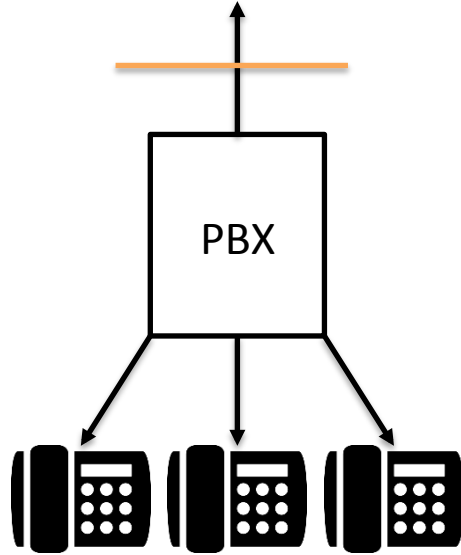

Why

Because it's still too complex

- Hard to use
- Costly to deploy
- Complex to administer
- Requires specialist skills
- Different architectures
- Interoperability issues
- Management burdens

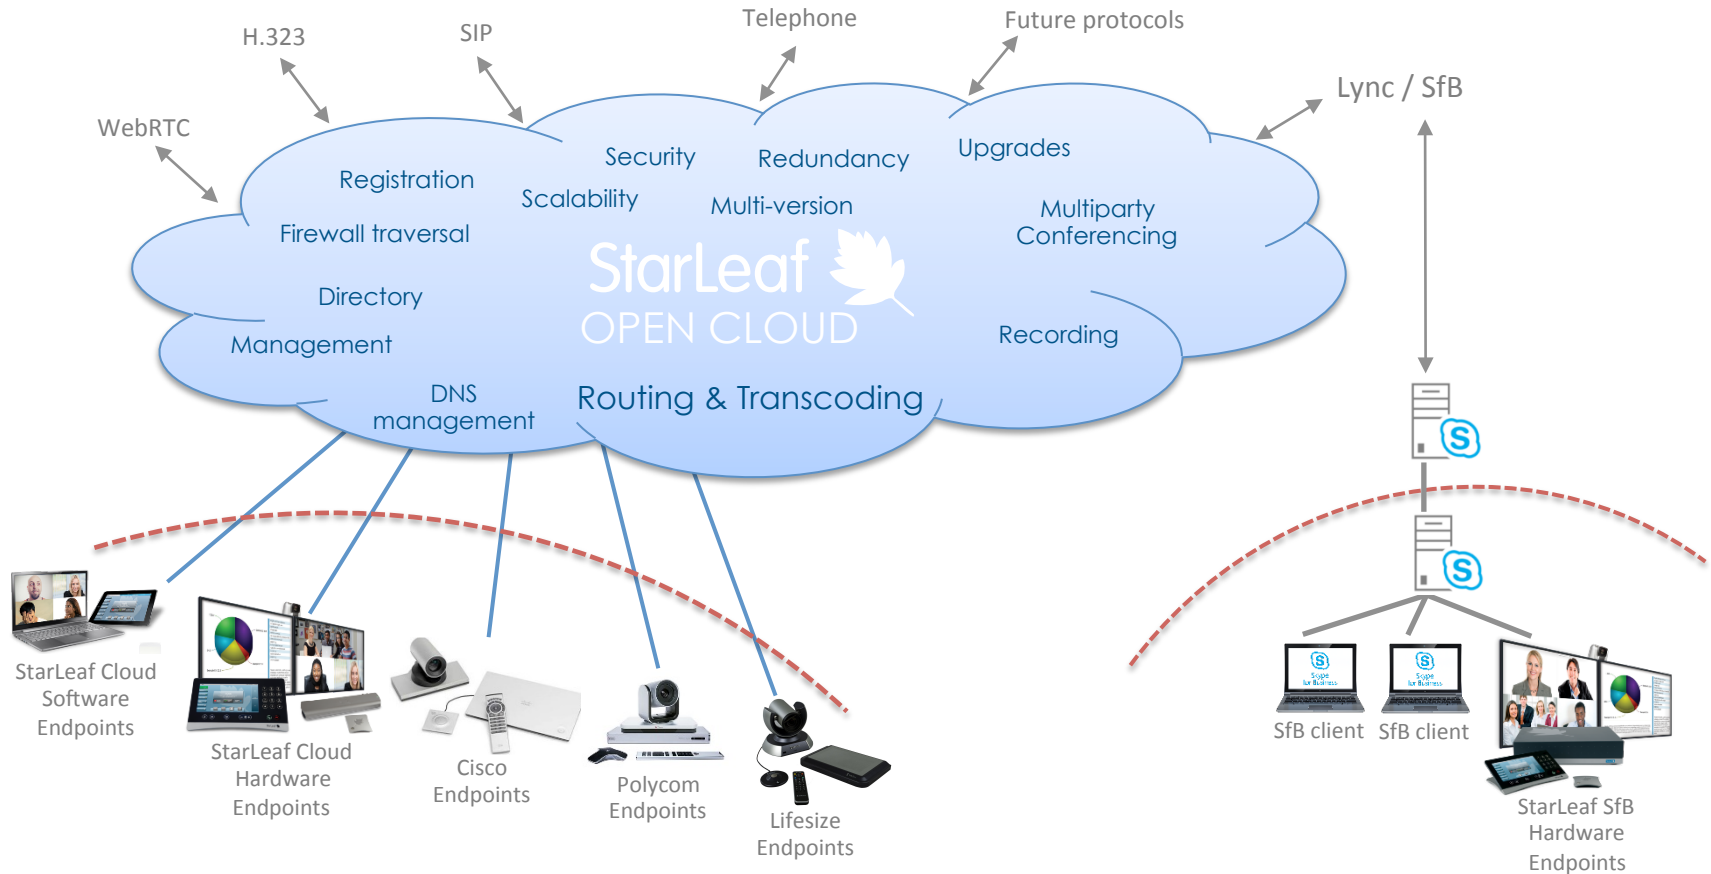

The Past

 = interoperability line

The StarLeaf architecture

The StarLeaf Reality

Our points of presence

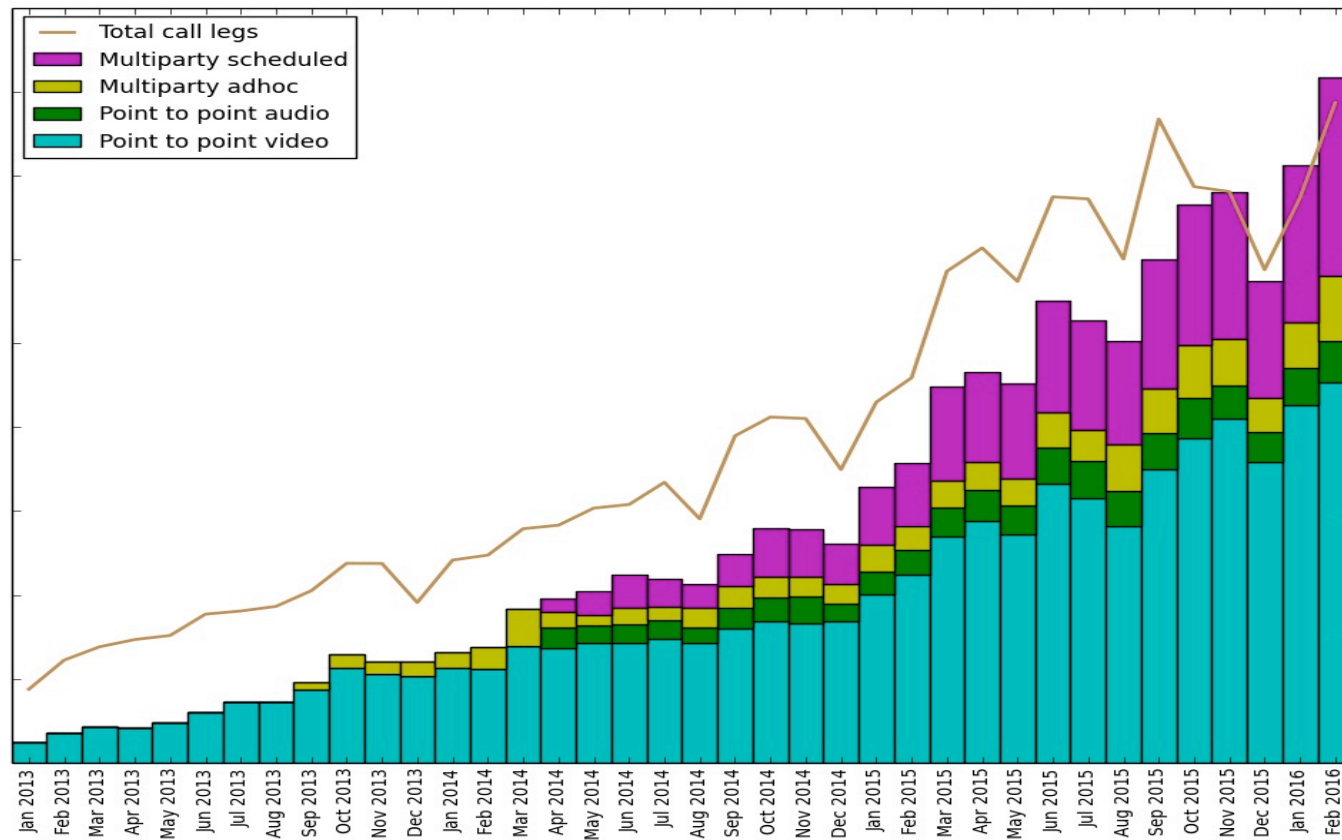

Some of our customers

StarLeaf Open Cloud Usage

Aggregated Monthly Total

What does StarLeaf do?

Video conferencing and calling that just works

Your needs, Our capabilities

hardware endpoints

- board room
- meeting room
- huddle room
- S4B meeting room

conferencing

- QuickMeet™
- Scheduled
- VMRs
- recording

subscriptions

- SIP and H.323 endpoint registration service

calling

- Direct, any-to-any
- H.323/SIP
- Skype 4 Business
- PSTN

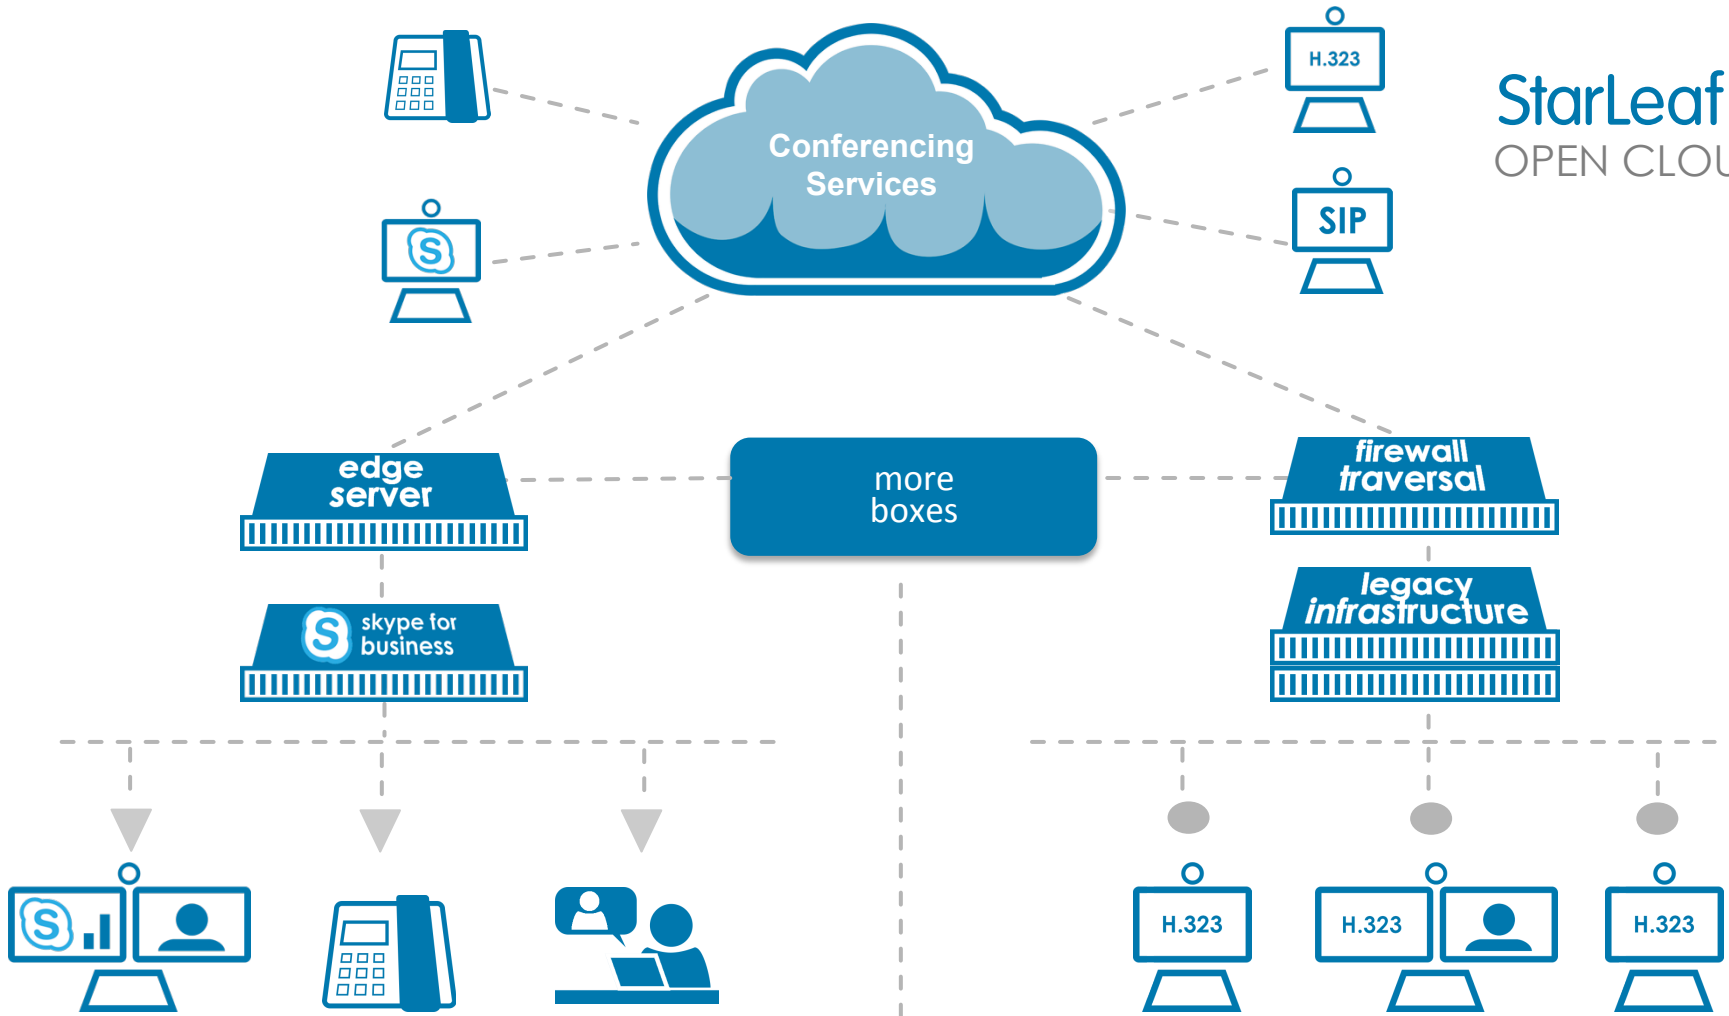

software endpoint

- Windows
- Mac
- Android
- Linux
- iOS

How StarLeaf helps migration

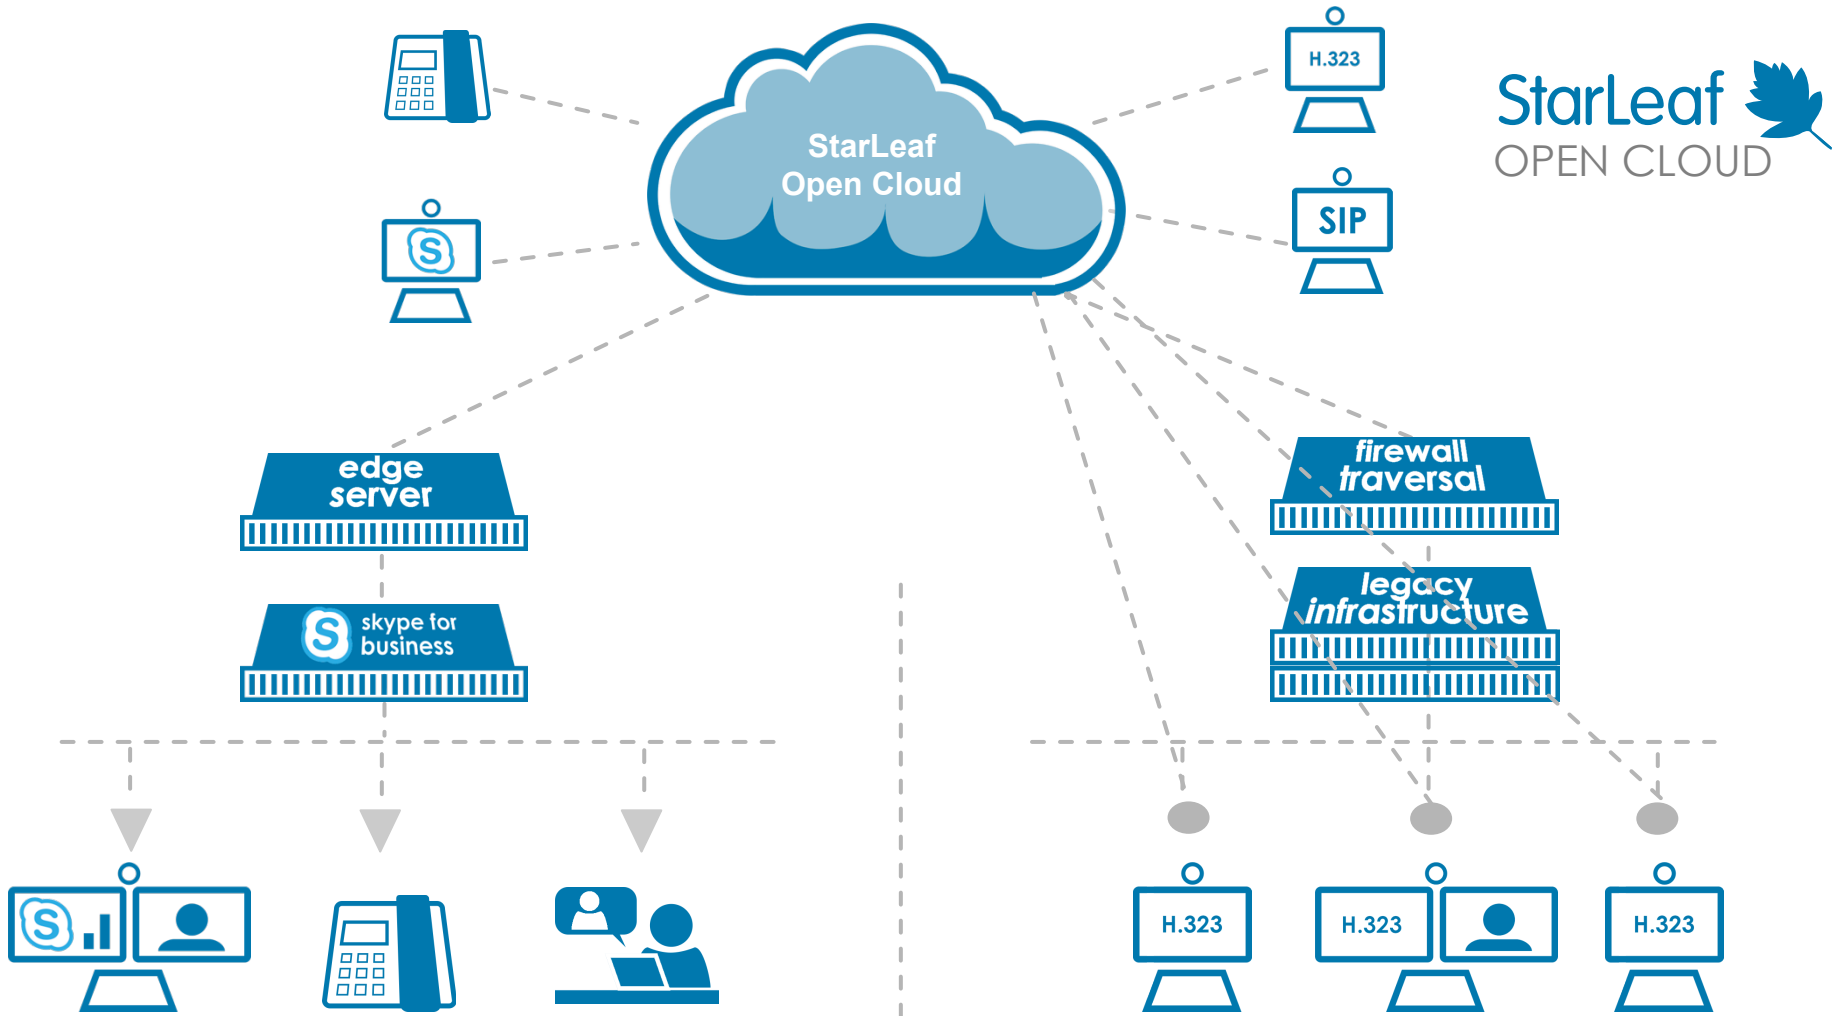

StarLeaf conferencing services

- unlimited users
- 5 / 17 / 30+ parties
- global audio dial-ins
- Outlook plug-in
- Chrome integration
- H.323/SIP/ SfB dial-in
- screen sharing
- scheduled & ad-hoc
- Recording
- Scheduling API
- Join from Browser

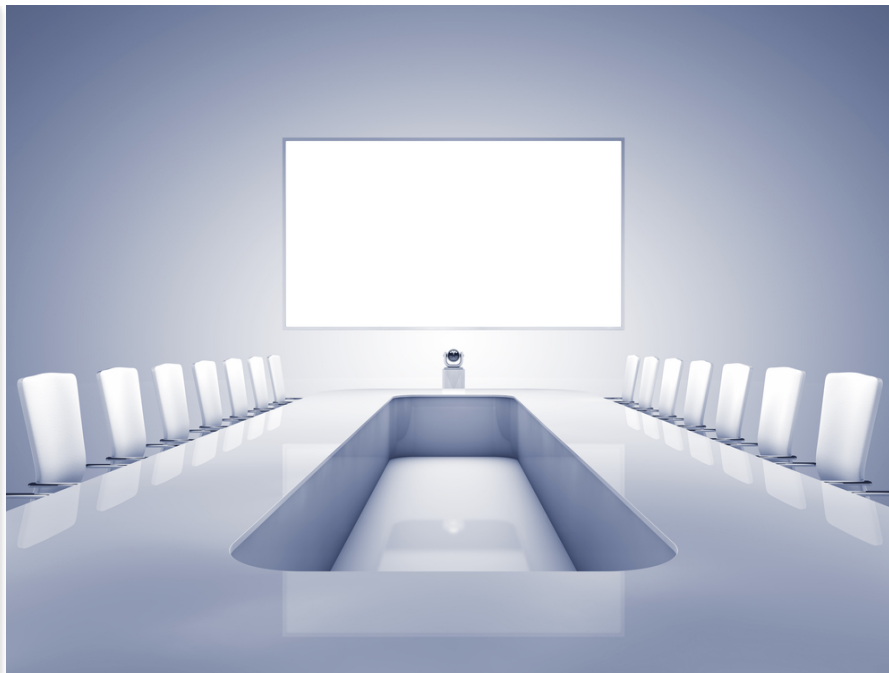

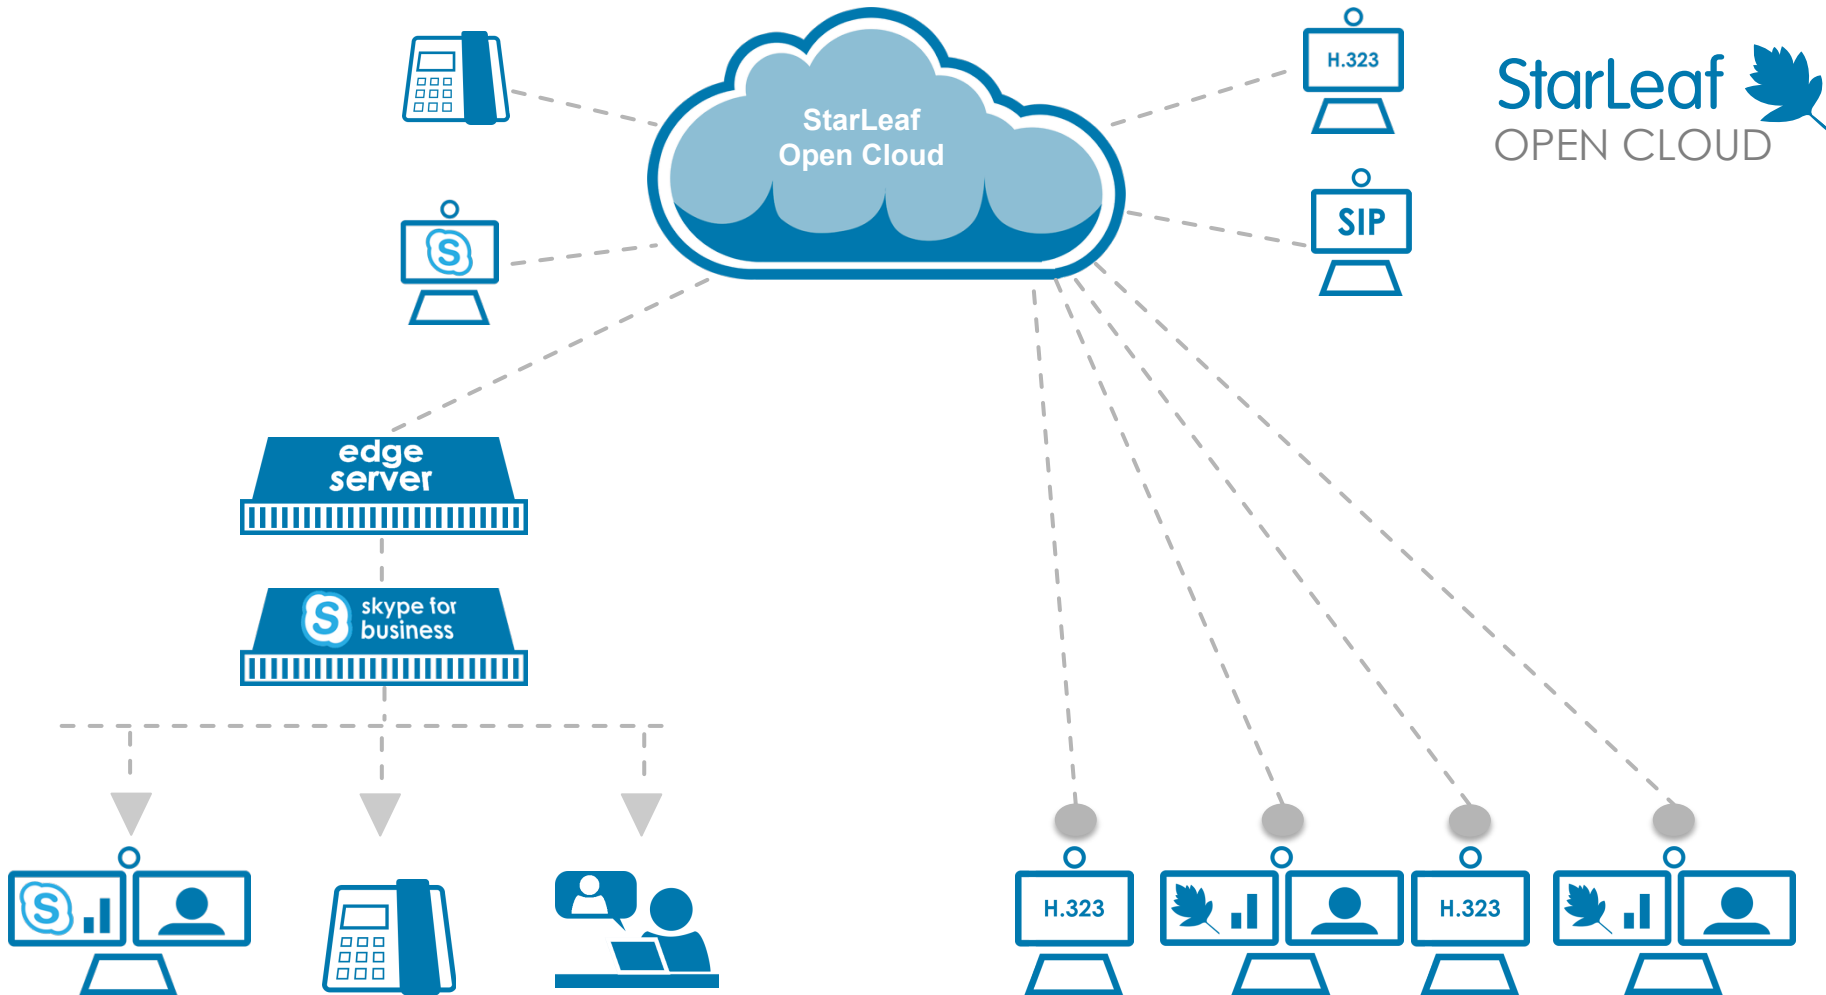

3rd party endpoint registration

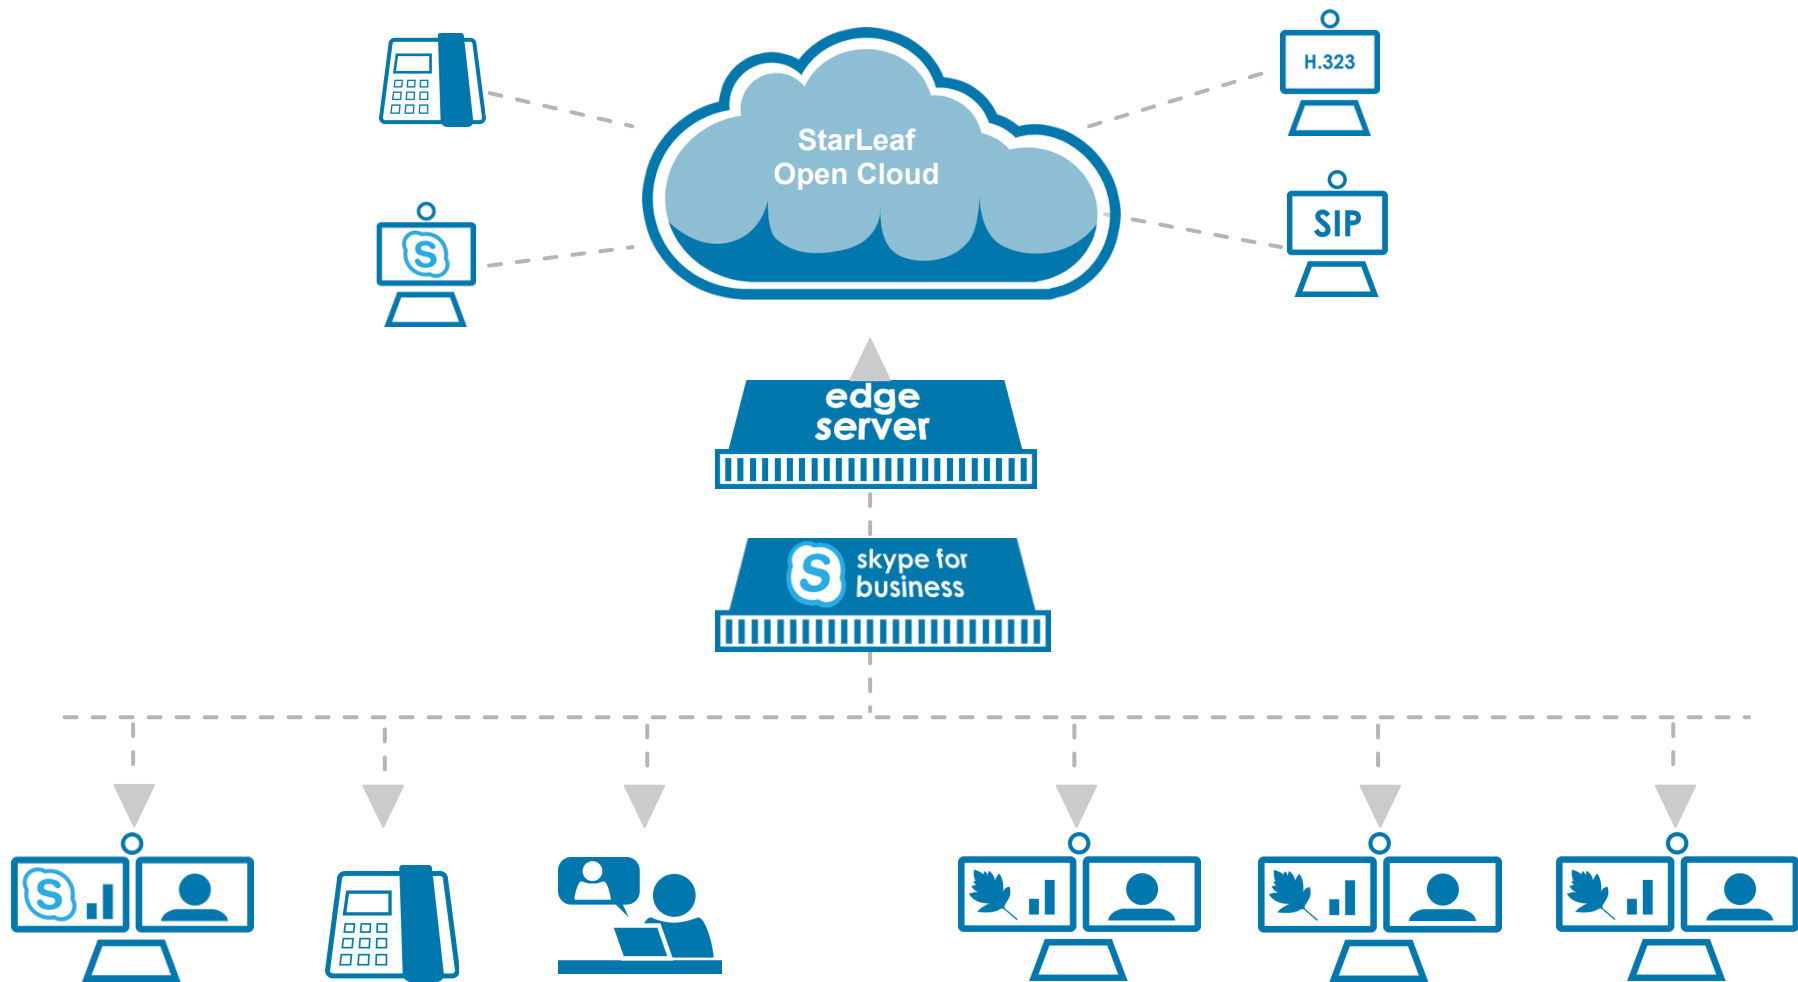

leverage existing investments

- point-to-point calling
- 4/7 digit dialing
- Complete interop (SfB)
- Native Directories
- access to PSTN
- StarLeaf Breeze for all
- endpoint monitoring
- centralized management
- SPAM call protection
- firewall traversal
- redundancy
- scalable MCU
- CDRs, usage stats
- Guests users

one world, one experience

 Skype for Business

StarLeaf GTm 5250

- 1 Uses Single SfB user license – NO StarLeaf Cloud license
- 2 Integration friendly audio
- 3 Full control API – including Directory & Meetings
- 4 High Quality PTZ Camera
- 5 Management & SW Updates
(Cloud or On-prem)
- 6 Linux Based

How can we help you?

visit us at stand 11