

BCNET
CONNECT
HIGHER ED & RESEARCH TECH SUMMIT

Equity, Accessibility and Educational Technology

April 26, 2023

Dr. Christina Hendricks

Professor of Teaching in Philosophy and Academic Director of the Centre for Teaching, Learning, and Technology, University of British Columbia

Dr. Dan Ryan

Associate Professor, Mathematics and Statistics, University of Northern British Columbia

Dr. Paula Hayden

Director of Learning Management System, College of New Caledonia

Dr. Veronica Thompson

Vice President Academic and Provost, Royal Roads University

Audience Poll

Please rank the following questions from least to most interested

- If accessibility and flexibility are the hallmarks of an educational technology rich teaching and learning environment, how can we ensure that all learners are being best served by educational technology choices?
- What are the latest trends and developments in educational technology, and how can they be leveraged to improve equity, accessibility, learning outcomes?
- How can educational technology be used to support rural and remote learning and provide students with access to high-quality educational resources?
- What are some barriers to accessing educational technology tools you would like to see better addressed? These could include barriers based on disability, cost, location, or others.
- What are the best practices for selecting and evaluating educational technology solutions, and how can their effectiveness be measured?
- How can IT Services and academic units collaborate to better inform one and other on educational technology needs, possibilities, and limitations?